SUPPORTED LIVING SCHEME

Supporting lives, empowering independence.

Supported living provides support that can help adults lead more independent, meaningful and dignified lives. Accommodation and regulated personal care may be provided through separate arrangements. Any specific funding, tenancy or benefit entitlement should be checked with the relevant authority.

WHAT IS SUPPORTED LIVING?

People may be able to choose where and with whom they live, who supports them and how daily routines work, in accordance with individual circumstances, tenancy rights and support arrangements.

WHO WE SUPPORT

The original scheme describes support for adults with mental health needs, sensory impairments, physical disabilities and other needs. Lyriq currently identifies Azariah House as accommodation for adults with learning disabilities and autism. Every enquiry is subject to suitability assessment and availability.

OUR PERSON-CENTRED APPROACH

Support plans focus on the individual’s preferences, culture, communication, independence and goals. Areas may include meal preparation, personal budgets, managing bills and appointments, community involvement and support with appropriate health-professional coordination.
